Marlene Mestrich, center, carrying the Anchor Club Banner in a Regatta Parade. Marlene served as Skipper, Publicity Chairman, Court chaperone, and also the first woman to head the Regatta Association.

In This Issue ...

It takes an army of volunteers in coordination with the Regatta Association to put on a successful Regatta year after year. That has been the mission of the Anchor Club since 1933. Each Regatta takes months of work to prepare for many social functions and other events in the spring and summer. The crowning of the queen and the Regatta parade may be the highlights, but not the end. Two Regatta princesses, one from 1956 and another from 1957, describe the complete process in this issue, both are named Sheryl: Sheryl Baker Ginn and Sheryl Hoagland Ohler. Various undated photograph from the 1950s follow their stories.

This issue also includes the 2nd half of Daymon Garrett Edwards' humorous story of the Waldorf Hotel, also excerpted in the Daily Astorian. And for even more humor, Jim Bradbury (AHS Class of 1958) writes about his experience working at Oregon Fur Processors.
